Federal regulations permit the Office of Student Financial Aid (OSFA) to consider the cost to purchase a computer when calculating a student's Cost of Attendance (COA). Allowable expenses include the purchase cost of a computer, printer and other necessary software and supplies if the expenses are incurred no earlier than 100 days prior to the beginning of the academic year. A maximum of $2500 in computer expenses will be considered per degree level. For example, a sophomore may receive assistance of $1300 for computer expenses and then request $1200 as a senior. If that same student then enrolls at UGA as a graduate student, a new $2500 limit would apply.

The equipment must be purchased in advance and appropriate documentation provided to OSFA before the increase in COA and eligibility for assistance can be considered. These costs will be added to the COA for students who have provided the information requested below.

A copy of your paid receipt for a computer, printer, and software.

Check here if you wish to have your loan eligibility reconsidered.

Due to federal student aid program limits, the inclusion of computer expenses in the COA may not result in additional funds for you. The FAFSA uses the previous calendar year income, earnings and benefits to determine financial aid eligibility.

We will consider this request when we receive all required information.

If you qualify for additional assistance you will receive a revised Award. The Student Accounts Department (not OSFA) will disburse any additional funds.

I understand that if I have NOT completed the current year Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) that I must do so before this request can be considered.
