You have applied for student financial aid for a Teacher Certification program. Federal Direct Student Loans are available to Teacher Certification students enrolled in at least six hours of coursework required for initial elementary or secondary (T4) teacher certification or recertification issued by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission. Endorsements and add-ons are not eligible for student financial aid. The University of Georgia must document the courses are required by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission.

Students must be in one of the following categories to be eligible:

- A student receiving an initial teaching credential or certificate;
- A student receiving periodic renewal of a teaching credential or certificate that is required by the State where the student currently has a credential or certificate;
- A student who has a teaching credential or certificate in one State receiving a credential or certificate in another State; or
- A student receiving an additional teaching certificate or credential that is required by a State for the student to teach in a different subject area.

Students meeting the above criteria must complete this form and forward it to their UGA Academic Advisor or Department Head, as well as the College of Education Dean's Office, for completion. A Financial Aid Award will then be generated in Athena for eligible students. Students will be notified via an email to their UGAMail address once a Federal Direct Loan has been offered. You must enroll in a minimum of six hours of required coursework per semester to be eligible for loans.

If you have questions please call (706) 542-6147 or email osfa@uga.edu.

To be completed by the student:

I will be enrolled in Teacher Certification coursework for the following certificate:

I certify that I am enrolling in required courses for my teacher certification. I understand that endorsement and add-on programs are not eligible for student financial aid and that I must enroll in a minimum of six hours of required coursework per semester to receive loans.
